VOLUME XLIV — UKIAH CITY, MENDOCINO COUNTY CAL., FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 13, 1912 — NUMBER 48

FINANCES OF COUNTY FOR MONTH OF AUGUST

Treasurer Geo. Johnson reports that there was a balance on hand in the county treasury on August 1 of $182,960.87. The total receipts for the month of August reached $27,953.05 and the total disbursemens $20,217.33. The balanceon hand Sept. 1, as reported to the supervisors was $190,696.59.

Fees were received as follows: Dr. Liftchild as superintendant of the county farm, $334.30; Judge Whipple, of Ft. Bragg, $20; Superintendant Babcock, $64; Sheriff Byrnes, $92.85; Recorder Holbrook, $300.80; Clerk McCowen $195.40.

There were 21 marriage licenses issued for the month of August, as reported by Miss Cupid Kate Thomas. Eleven civil and criminal and 16 probate cases were begun.

Liquor Cases Up

The cases of the People vs Wm. Grotz and Sam Blevins were up in the Superior court this week. Attorneys Preston and Mannon argued a demurrer for the defendants, claiming the ordinance under which the defendants were being prosecuted in the Superior court was in conflict with the state law, which puts the cases in the justice court. Judge White has taken the matter under advisement.

UKIAH TO HAVE NEW VETERINARIAN

Dr. E. L. Glaisyer arrived in Ukiah the latter part of last week and after looking the field over has decided to locate here permanently. He will rent a house and move his family to this section as soon as possible.

Dr. Glaisyer is a veterinary surgeon of statewide reputation. He is ex-veterinarian of the U. S. Departm ent of Agriculture, ex-territorial vete rinarian of Hawaii, andex-state deputy veterinarian of California. He stands high in his chosen calling and without doubt will find a lucrative field for the practise of his talents here.

His professional card appears elsewhere in the Dispatch.

Death Of An Old Pioneer

L. Cassade, an old pioneer of this county, passed away Tuesday night at his home one mile south of Ukiah, where he has lived for ten years. He was 78 years old and leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

Before moving to his home in Ukiah he lived in Long Valley for some twenty years and his many friends made while living there will regret to hear of his demise.

He was buried yesterday at 10 a. m. from Hutchinson and Roeder's Undertaking parlors.

Auto Over Grade

An auto containing four men went over the grade between Boonville and Cloverdale last Monday night. The machine was rounding a sharp curve going down hill and met the stage coming up. The chauffeur in attempting to avoid a collision went over the bank. Nobody was killed, although two of the occupants of the auto were more or less injured and the machine was a total wreck.

Lawson Strong

Ike Nunn, a prominent farmer of the Christine section, was at the county seat this week on business. He says the roads in that part of the county are the best they have ever been and gives Supervisor Lawson credit for giving the district a splendid business administration. He predicts that the district will give Lawson a two thirds majority.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS INCITING TROUBLE

A crowd of the Industrial Workers, of the World, who came up to Hopland some time ago to pick hops on the Frazier ranches near Hopland, have been fomenting trouble among the pickers ever since their arrival and their efforts culminated last Wednesday in an attempt to declare a strike. They demanded $1.50 a hundred and by their threats and intimidations sought to prevent the other pickers from going to work, hoping to gain their end by this means. The managers of the fields immediately telephoned sheriff Byrnes, who got together six of his deputies and sent them to the scene of the trouble.

The strikers had threatened to burn the kilns and sheds, also to burn the tents and belongings of any one who would pick before the extra .50 was allowed on every hundred that was picked. Consequently the most of the pickers had stopped work, but upon the arrival of the sheriff's deputies those who had been forced to quit work immediately took to their sacks, only the strikers, numberng about twenty five, refused to work at the old rate of pay. After hanging around for a day and seeing that the other pickers would not follow their plans they tried to start something, and were immediately chased from the fields and told not to return by the deputies. They took to the railroad track and have not been heard from since. The deputes returned to Ukiah Tuesday night, ready to return at the slighest provocation.

Democrats Meet Tomorrow

The Democratic county convention will meet in this city tomorrow at 10 o'clock in the court house for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign. The convention will be composed of 116 delegates representing the various precincts of the county.

The republican county convention will meet in Ft. Bragg at the same time for the purpose of reorganizing the party. As all the contests were decided in the primary a great many proxies are expected.

Mrs. Alice Roberts and Miss Mary Chalmers both working in the Pacific Telehone Co's office in this city, took Saturday's 3 o'clock train for a weeks' visit in the San Francisco and other bay cities. Miss Lily Jones will fill the chief's Mrs. Robert's position for the week.

ZUMWALT THANKS HIS SUPPORTERS

I take this means of expressing sincere thanks to the Democratic votes for their generous support given me, at the primaries on September 3rd, against my distinguished opponent, Senator L. W. Juilliard of Santa Rosa.

And I assure each and every resident of Mendocino county that should I be elected on the 5th day of November, that I will use my utmost efforts to represent them in the halls of congress to the very best of my ability.

I. G. Zumwalt,
Democratic C andidate
for congress.

Infant Buried Here

The year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott living four miles north of Ukiah on the Calpella road, died Monday and was buried Wednesday in Ukiah from Hutchison and Roeder's undertaking parlors. The many friends extend their sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Indian Held for Rape

An Indian boy named Henry Sam was arrested by Sheriff Byrnes at Hopland last Friday afternoon on a charge of rape. He is about 14 years of age and the alleged crime was committed on a 5 year old Indian girl.

Dr. E. E. Brown and wife of Ft. Bragg, passed through the hop Festival city Friday on their way to San Francisco. From there Mrs. Brown will go to Michigan where she will make an extended visit with relatives. The Dr. after attending to some business for the Ft. Bragg Garage o which he is manager will return to Ft. Bragg.

Town In Gala Attire For First Hop Festival

Ukiah to Be Host Tomorrow for Big Crowd of Merrymakers. Auto Parade in Morning, Races & Aviation Exhibition in Afternoon and Big Open Air Dance Id the Eveuing Fill the Day.

Excursion Rates on All the Raliroads

The final plans for Ukiah's first annual hop festival have been completed and the last small details are rapidly rounding into shape. The pavilion is being decorated; the exhibits are being put in place; the aeroplane is here, the parade is all prepared for; the reception committee, under the chairmanship of B. S. Hirsch, is ready to go on the job at sun up; entries are being received for the auto and motor cycle races; the weaher is all that could be desired; and last but not least the publicity committee has plastered this county and every town on the railroad line from Willits to Petaluma with posters and dodgers announcing Ukiah's First Annual Hop Festival. Thus the crowd is assured.

Word was received from J. J. Geary, general passenger agent for the Northwestern Pacific, that excursion rates would prevail on the trains to and from Ukiah Saturday, from all points beween Willits and Petaluma, and this fact has been as widely advertised as possible. The tickets will be good Saturday and returning Sunday.

The first big feature on the program will be the auto parade at 10 in the morning. There will be upwards of 60 decorated machines in the line-up and probably as many more not decorated. The parade will be headed by Keller's band in half a dozen lavishly decorated cars. The parade is to assemble at McGarvey park and the route will be from there to State street and up to the latter thoroughfare, thence through the main st reets of the business section.

By 8 o'clock in the morning the pavilion will be open. Although given short notice, Chairman Bernhard of the exhibit committee, has arranged for a fine exhibit and the farmers acting in co-operation with him are bringing in some excellent specimens of agricultural products—fruits, melons, grain, corn etc. Mr. Bernhard states that the horse and cattle show will be held at the race track, on account of the cramped quarters in the yard back of the Redemeyer building, but the poultry and small exhibits will be behind the pavilion.

The judges for the exhibits are J. W. Eversole, R. E. Dimmick and A. Foster.

The judges for the auto parade are A. Marks, Capt. Kohler., Will Bond.

The judge of the poultry exhibits will be J. Lee, of Petaluma. The judges on live stock, as announced by the chairman will be W. J. Hildreth, John Taylor, F. A. Yates Herman Kohn and Mr. Mitchell.

At 7:30 P. M. the prizes for stock and other exhibits will be awarded from the court house door.

The motorcyle races will be held at the track about 2:30 p. m and as soon as they are hnished the aeroplane flight will be given. This is to be the big feature of the entertainment and it is safe to say that a bigger drawing card could not have been obtained.

Aviator Thompson will use a Curtis biplane, the same machine used to fly to the battle ship Pennsylvania at San Francisco recently. This afternoon at 3 and this evening at 8 he will give lectures on the machine at the lot adjoining Hamer's stable on Main street and will have the machine on exhibit; go and ask all the fool questions you please.

The day will conclude with the illumination and open air street dance in front of the courthouse, where King Carnival will hold full sway from 8 o' clock until midnight

The merchants are urged to decorate their business houses in time for the parade.

The colors are to be green and gold. Hops are to be used as much as possible.

EAGLES ARRANGING FOR ENTERTAINMENT

The Local Aerie of Eagles are arranging for what will without doubt prove one of the most delightful entertainments ever offered to the people of Ukiah.

In connection with an excellent musical program Mr. George B. Williams of New York has been engaged for the star preformer of the evening and he will render a program of humerous and descriptive readings and impersonations. Mr. Williams has already been heard in Ukiah and his many admirers vouch for the high character of his work. The program for the evening of Sept. 23nd at Cleland's Hall has been made up especially for those who enjoy a hearty laugh, and all who attend will be promised an evening of real enjoyment. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Eagles.

Do not fail to have your picture taken in the Airship.

BEAUTIFUL RESIDENCE FINISHED FOR POAGE

This week Contractor Walter B Dickie finished work on the new residence he has been building for Attorney W. G. Poage on the corner of Clay and Hortense streets.

The building is one of Ukiah's most beautiful homes. It is a two story, 8 roomed house and is thoroughly modern throughout. The finishings are of Douglas fir slashgrained, and varnished in the natural color and the result makes a most handsome interior.

There are three sleeping porches, two of which are sheltered and can be used the entire year.

Homes such as this help the town vastly and Mr. Poage is to be congratulated on his taste in selecting a design.

The old house will be moved from the lot and placed elsewhere.

Miss Mildred Redwine departed yesterday for her home at Covelo after a visit with Mrs. Jessie Redwine, her aunt, in Ukiah.

STRIP GRAPE LEAVES TO PREVENT ROTTING

Owing to the heavy rains last week the grapes in this valley have shown a tendency to rot and unless this can be prevented the loss through this agency will amount to many tons.

William Hopman, manager for the French American winery here, wrote to C. A. Bernhard, secretary of the Farmer's club, from Healdsburg the first of the week, advising how to proceed to prevent this loss. He says in part:

"A good many of the farmers in Healdsburg are stripping all the leaves off the center of their vines, so that the wind and the sun can get through the vine, and the ventilation thus preventing further rot. The rain we had cracked a good many grapes, and if the bunches get covered up with big clusters of leaves, which will hold the dampness rising from the ground, the grapes will be one mass of rot, especially on vines that make a heavy growth. Tell the grape growers what some of the farmers are doing here to save their grapes."

Bridge Will Be Repaired

The bridge across Schooner gulch, below Point Arena which was badly damaged by the traction engine which went through it the latter part of last week, will be repaired at once, having been declared an emergency case by the board of supervisors.

Supervisor Reynolds states that the grade approaching the bridge will also be cut down, as a higher bridge will be built across the gulch.

Republicans Will Contest

The republican county convention will meet at Ft. Bragg tomorrow for the purpose of selecting a county committee. It is reported that a fight is on between the regulars and the Bull Moosers for the control of the central committee. The regulars claim that the Bull Moosers are a third party and should not try to ride an elephant and Bull Moose at the same time. The Taft men want a committee of their own and wan the Bull Moosers to get out of the republican party and run the Progress sive party as they please. A warm time is expected. This means that chairman Milliken and secretary White must get out of the republican party and run their third term party, and quit interfering with the republican party's affairs.

JOHN M,GIMSEY NEW JANITOR AT COURTHOUSE

The board of supervisors yesterday appointed a new janitor at the courthouse to succeed W. H. Gibson, who was appointed assessor at the last meeting of the board.

There were six entries in the race —John McGimsey, Fred Dartt, J. W. Buttes, Donald Brown, G. A. Dnnn, Geo. Bidwell.

On the rollcall McGimsey received three votes, Lawson, Reynolds and Smith, while Dartt received the votes of Fairbanks and Brandon.

Any of the gentlemen entered would have been a good selection but that of Mr. McGimsey is particular good and will meet with the approval of the taxpayers all over the county. He is acquainted with the duties of the office and withal is a faithful and conscientious servant of the people in his present capacity of nightwatch. He deserves the position and his friends are glad he has got it.

Later

At a meeting of the town trustees last night, Fred Dartt was appointed nightwatch to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. J. McGimsey.

Miss Flossie Ruddock has been appointed to fill a position in the Ukiah grammar school made vacant by the resignation of Miss Josie Ames. Miss Ruddock is a Ukiah girl and a graduate of Mrs. Porterfield's normal class of last year. She has been teaching in Lake county and her success there won her high recommendations from the Superintendent of Schools of that county. Her friends in Ukiah will be glad to hear of her appointment.

WIFE OF DR. MARVIN PASSES TO BEYOND

Mrs. Marvin, wife of Doctor Marvin, acting superintendent of the Ukiah state hospital, died in a San Francisco hospital Wednesday of last week. The remains were shipped to Rohnerville for interment.

Mrs. Marvin's illness was unknown to many friends of herself and the doctor in Ukiah and the news of her death comes as a shock to those who were unprepared for it. The Humboldt Times of last Saturday says:

The funeral services of Mrs. Lizzie Marvin, wife of Dr. C. D. Marvin, whose body arrived in Eureka on the steamer F. A. Kilburn, Friday, and were shipped to the Hansen-Hunter undertaking parlors in Fortuna will be held from the home of her father, George E. Stewart, in Rohnerville Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Rev. C. H. Foster, of the Fortuna Christian Church, will officiate at the services held at the home, assisted by a quartette of singers at the cemetery.

Rohnerville Chapter, No 76, Order of Eastern Star will have charge of the services. Worthy Matron Irene Hansell, assisted by Guy Sears, Worthy Patron, will read the funeral services of that order, of which both the deceased and her husband are members.

Interment will be made in the Masonic cemetery at Rohnerville. Messrs E. W. Haight, A. C. Edison, F. A. Leach., W. M. Fuller, Samuel Guthrie and William Norwood will act as the pall bearers.

THREE LECTURERS AT APPLE FAIR

The management of the Mendocino Apple Fair, which is to be held in Mendocino city for the week begining Oct. 23, have received word from the University of California to the effect that there will be three lecturers sent from that institution to attend the fair. These men are recognized authorities on fruit culture, soils, etc. and they will give instruction to those attending the fair.

The course will cover three days and will include a course on stock raising and breeding. Needless to say the presence of these lecturers will add vastly to the value and interest of the exhibit.

Sweet Held to Appear

Rev. A. N. Sweet, of Manchester, was arrested the first of last week on a charge of rape preferred by Peter Christiansen, pf that place. According to the complaint Elsie Christiansen, the 15 year old daughter of the complaining witness, is the girl in the case.

The preliminary was held in Point Arena last Saturdaty and the defendant was held to answer before the superior court by Justice Scott, of Point Arena township. He is out on $2000 bail furnished by J. C. Halliday and Frank Fairbanks.

The defendant was arraigned in the Superior court yesterday and plead "not guilty." The case will be up for trial on Oct. 17.

Back With Bride

Guy Redwine and bride, nee Miss Emma Luhrman, returned to Ukiah last Wednesday evening. They were warmly welcomed home. After a few weeks in town they will leave for Southern California where Mr. Redwine has charge of a gang of surveyers engaged in government work.

They have the best wishes of the Dispatch and a host of friends here for their happiness.

Pitney-Schulz

Fred Pitney of Blue Lakes, and Miss Ida Schulz were united in marriage in Ukiah yesterday.

Both are well known and well liked by many friends in Ukiah where the groom has been employed in Miller's stable for some time, and many are the good wishes that accompany them.

General W. S. Graham, of the Snow Mountain Water and Power Co. was in San Francisco this week on business and was a guest at Hotel Sutter.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR EACH CITIZEN TO HELP

George W. Perkins, organizer of the steel trust and chairman of the finance committee of the harvester trusts, is also chairman of the nationa finance committee of the Bull Moose party.

Mr. Perkins says, "Funds will be ample for the Roosevelt campaign," and none can doubt that he knows whereof he speaks.

But funds will not be ample for the Wilson campaign. The great predatory interests are not in his fight. Trust officials are not collecting money from him. He has said that every dollar expended in his campaign must come from the people themselves because he will be responsible only to the people for his election to the presidency.

The Dispatch-Democrat asks each of its readers to help with his or her mite. Bring or send to this office whatever you can give and it will be appreciated, even though the amount be only a few cents.

The names of all contributers will be published, but not the amounts they give, and the money will be forwarded to the Democratic state central committee to help defray the expenses of the campaign to give Wilson and Marshall the electoral vote of California.

Either bring or send in your contributions without delay.

The Money Is Needed Now. A fight for popular government must be financed by the people themselves, and you are one of them.

BIG TRACTION ENGINE GOES THROUGH BRIDGE

Last Saturday while the colony of Russians who are settling on the Knipp and Stingle ranch near Gualala, were taking a big tractor from Point Arena to the ranch, the machine broke through the bridge at Schooner Gulch. The stringer on one side of the bridge gave way and a man named Nikolas Podsaloff, who was walking alongside the engine was killed. The fireman and engineer saved themselves by jumping.

Supervisor Frank Reynolds had warned the Russians that the bridge would not hold the immence weight of the tracton engine, but his warning Iwas disregarded.

The machine can be saved.

Pinches Dago Hunter

Since his appointment as Game Warden, Roy Perkins has been actively on the job. This week he landed an Italian east of Albion on a charge of killing quail. The arrested man plead guilty in Judge Wallace's court Monday and paid a fine of $5.

KEYS TREASURER OF FINANCE COMMITTEE

San Francisco, Sept. 4, 1912.

Dear Editor:—

It is a pleasure to inform you that Mr. J. W. Keys has accepted the appointment of Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Democratic Central Committee.

The financing of a campaign in a big State like California, where the funds must be supplied by the people is no small undertaking and success can only come in this regard from the general cooperation of democrats.

Mr. Keys has entered upon his duties systematically and earnestly and will pursue a vigorous campaign for funds throughout the state from his office, Room 706 Westbank Building, 830 Market St. San Francisco.

Bespeaking for him substantial cooperation of all democrats and asking that all contributions (except those made through local papers authorized to receive subcriptions) be sent direct to him at the given address.

We beg to remain

Respectfully yours,
R. H. DeWitt
Chairman Democratic State Committee

They May Not Use Blotting Paper.

There are probably few houses, business or otherwise, in England, that do not possess a sheet of blotting paper It is one of the commonest articles of everyday use. And yet there is at least one calling whose activities are of vital importance to the nation, the members of which are absolutely forbidden to use blotting paper—that of registrar.

Registrars are supplied with a special kind of ink, which is permanent and very black. In order that it may be thoroughly effective it must be allowed to dry of its own accord.

India rubber or any other form of eraser is likewise forbidden. If the registrar makes a slip of the pen that slip must stand. If he writes a word wrongly he must draw a line through it and write the correction above. Even smudges and blots must be left unerased.—London Answers.

Browning's Vision and Memory.

Browning had the faculties of vision and memory developed to abnormal degree. Grant Duff records a conversation with Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema, who "gave me a curious account of Browning's sight, maintaining that with one eye he could read the number of a picture at the end of a long gallery, while with the other (sic) without artificial assistance he could write an ode of Horace on a piece of paper the size of a threepenny bit."

Another diarist, Mrs. Andrew Crosse, heard Browning in the course of a discussion on Byron quote the whole of the "Vision of Judgment" after remarking, "I have not seen the poem for forty years, but this is graven on my memory."—London Chronicle.

Indian Computation of Time.

Certain of the reservation Indians still cling to the calendar of their ancestors. The Indian method was to compute time by sleeps and moons. A sleep is twenty-four hours, and a moon is a month. There is also a midmoon, where the sun is at 12 o'clock, meridian. The hour is indicated by pointing overhead. When an Indian pointed quarter way up the sky he meant 9 o'clock. When he pointed quarter way down he meant 3 o'clock. Sunrise was the eastern horizon and sunset the western. Night was indicated by holding the hands together, palms downward, stretching out the arms and holding the body and head bent forward. When there was a moon the time was indicated in the same way as was the sun. Were an Indian asked the distance to a certain place or how far he had come he would say so many sleeps or days' travel. A sleep, as describing distance, was about thirty-five miles when walking deliberately, or from fifty to seventy-five miles if going in haste with a message. —New York Press.

Human Horns.

In the anatomical museum of the Edinburgh university four horns are preserved which had grown upon human heads. One of these is about seven inches long, as thick as the little finger and crooked in shape. A label attached to it bears this inscription: "This horn was cut by Arthur Temple, chirurgeon, out of the head of Elizabeth Low, being three inches above the right ear, before witnesses, the 14th of May, 1671. It was a-growing seven yeares. Her age is fifty yeares."

The three other human horns also graced the heads of ladies.

In Sir Robert Sibbald's "History of Fife," a curious book published about the beginning of the eighteenth century, we read: "A person of quality, a lady of great age in this shire, had a horn growing out of her toe and put her from walking. It was cut off by Dr. H., and she was freed of pain and walked."

Actual Raising of Duties Effected by Payne Bill

COTTON AND WOOL SCHEDULES

Both Indefensible, and President Taft Knew It—Suppression of Facts by the Tariff Board—Statistics Employed to Mislead the Public.

By ROBERT KENNETH MAC LEA.
[Formerly consulting expert of the tariff board.]

New York, Aug. .—On not a single one of the ninety-five all cotton samples of fabric taken as the basis of the tariff board's investigations of the cotton schedule was there an actual reduction of the tariff by the Payne-Aldrich law.

The samples were selected with great care by the combined judgment of the board's experts, indorsed by the leading jobbers of the United States as being representative of all classes of fabric in use in this country, each sample being chosen because it was typical of the most used material of its particular weave or class. Ninety-five all cotton and five silk and cotton samples comprise the 100 that appear in the tariff board's cotton report.

Forty-seven of the ninety-five in the all cotton class pay 33.60 per cent higher duties under the Payne-Aldrich than they did under the Dingley tariff.

Payne-Aldrich "Jokers."

Of these forty-seven classes of material on which the tariff was increased nine are the fancy weaves made in three or four New England mills commonly grouped as the "Lippitt-McColl interests." This is the clique of New England manufacturer-politicians who were permitted by Senator Nelson W. Aldrich to write the cotton schedule to suit themselves.

Of the nine Lippitt-McColl fabrics the Payne-Aldrich law jacked up the average duty from 36.57 to 60.33 per cent. In other words, the promised "revision downward" on these goods was really a revision upward amounting to 64.97 per cent of the Dingley rates.

The remaining thirty-eight classes of all cotton fabrics on which the duty was increased were not generally the average duty of 35.36 per cent. Under the Payne-Aldrich law they pay 44.58 per cent—a revision upward equal to 26.07 per cent of the former rate as compared with 64.97 per cent increase on manufactures of the favored few.

On just three among the 100 samples was there a decrease in duty. These were the silk and cotton fabrics (silk mills) that pay more than 100 per cent duty. On these three samples the reduction averaged 5.66 per cent on the former duty—a reduction from 116.70 per cent under the Dingley law to 110.44 per cent under the Payne-Aldrich law. On one of the silk and cotton samples there was an increase amounting to 21.98 per cent. The fifth of the silk and cotton samples was left unchanged.

On the forty-five of the ninety-five all cotton samples there was no change in duty.

On the three remaining samples (completing the total of 100) no comparison is made because of apparent lack of authentic foreign prices.

And still President Taft said in his speech at Boston, April 25 last:

"It (the Payne-Aldrich bill) was a question; congress could make its own computations. The official explanation for refusing to publish the table showing whether the tariff had been raised or lowered was that the market fluctuations made it of no value. This was only a quibble, because the respective tariff acts were so arranged that the increase in duty on a sliding scale kept pace with the price fluctuations.

The tariff board chose to print tables that would show only the assessment of duty under the two acts and left it to anybody who desires the information to figure out for himself the significant facts above set forth.

Benefit Only to Privilege.

From every point of view of the tariff grafter it is no doubt highly desirable that such facts, staggering as they are to the dishonest pretensions that the cotton tariff was really lowered, should be buried as deeply as possible in a mass of unexplained statistics. But it is to the advantage of every honest manufacturer and merchant who is seeking stability in business and fair opportunity to make a reasonable profit that the truth should be made known. Just such policies of official evasion and suppression have made possible in the past the juggling of tariff legislation by and in behalf of the privileged few.

It is undisputed that the cotton schedule as written in the house ways and means committee by Representative Sereno E. Payne of New York did not provide the full measure of "revision downward" that the Republican party had promised. Still it was not until after the Payne bill went to the senate finance committee, of which Mr. Aldrich was chairman, that the "interests" got in their most deadly work. It is well known that Senator Aldrich freely consulted, if he did not actually permit, the Lippitt-McColl interests to write into the amended bill the duties affecting their own products—the fancy weaves made by only a few of the largest and richest New England mills.—New York World.

vastly better bill than the Dingley bill. If I had refused to sign the Payne bill it would have maintained the Dingley bill with higher rates than the Payne bill."

When Mr. Taft made this statement he must have known that it was untrue. As for the wool schedule, he knew that the rates were not higher in the Dingley law than in the Payne-Aldrich law, for right after signing the latter bill did he not denounce its wool rates as "indefensible?" And, as for the cotton rates of the Payne bill, he knew they were just as "indefensible" as the wool rates, for at the time he made this statement in Boston he had the tariff board's report on cotton before him.

It is true that the cotton report of the tariff board did not make this information available at a glance to Mr. Taft or to congress or to the public. The tariff board carefully avoided giving this information in a getatable, understandable form.

Suppressed the Answer.

"Was the tariff raised or lowered?" has been an insistent question ever since the Payne-Aldrich law was enacted three years ago. The tariff board avoided answering it.

In making my official report to the board I submitted a table that did answer this question in respect to each one, excepting three, of the 100 cloth samples around which our months of investigation centered. After much side-stepping and discussion this table was expurgated and published in its emasculated form. The board's excuse was that it was not its duty to answer the

Will Campaign In New York.

New York, Aug. .—Governor Woodrow Wilson will make his first invasion of New York for campaign purposes when he will be the guest of honor at the Workingmen's Woodrow Wilson club of the lower east side at a dinner to be held at the Cafe Boulevard on Sept. 4. Governor Wilson will deal, it is expected, with the problems of immigration and the false impressions that have been put upon his views by the quotations of isolated sentences from his different books.

I. N. Woods spent Saturday and Sunday with his wife in Ukiah.

CIGARETTES ARE BAD FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Has Decided Views on Subject.

AN ERROR IN NAMES.

Wife of Democratic Candidate Gives Out Letter Taking Strong Stand on Smoking Habit.

New York.—For the first time since Woodrow Wilson became the Democratic presidential candidate has Mrs. Wilson appeared. She attended in person her husband's daily conference with reporters, although heretofore she has made special requests that she be not quoted nor written about in the papers.

What Mrs. Wilson wished to have fully understood was that if she becomes the first lady of the land she will not, as has been said in a widely distributed interview, have packages of cigarettes in her personal desk at the White House and indulge in smoking them with her callers.

Through Governor Wilson, Mrs. Wilson asked that publicity be given to a letter she had written to the editor of the State Journal at Columbus, O., repudiating an alleged interview with her in which she defended cigarette smoking for women. The interview had come to her in a letter signed "American Citizen," which said:

Dear Madam—I can scarcely think of any greater calamity to the young women of the nation than to read such a preachment as your interview offers them. I am a workingman, and I see men lose their jobs almost every day because they are incapacitated for work by the use of the cigarette. If smoking does this for strong men what will it do for girls and women?

The "interview" was indeed a cordial indorsement of the woman smoker. Here are some of its assuring phrases, all credited to Mrs. Wilson:

"A woman writer for a syndicate of Sunday newspapers asked Mrs. Woodrow Wilson if she agreed with Gertrude Atherton's opinion of the smoking of cigarettes by women. She smilingly exhibited three cigarette boxes piled in the corner of her desk, all but empty.

"'Why shouldn't a woman smoke if she enjoys it?' she queried.

"'Why hasn't she just as much right to a cigarette as a man? Certainly I agree with Mrs. Atherton that any existing prejudice against women smoking is to the last silly and absurd.

"'Smoking cigarettes is a question of manners, not morals. It promotes good fellowship.

"'Some women feel that a cigarette calms their nerves and helps their brains into working order. Personally smoking diffuses my thoughts instead of concentrating them. I enjoy it as I enjoy after dinner coffee. Both are pleasant ways of ending and finishing off; both add to conviviality and good fellowship.'"

The editor of the Ohio State Journal, it was clear, had been much incensed at the apologies for the cigarette habit among women attributed to Mrs. Wilson, as he wrote on Aug. 10 an editorial in which he called for the defeat of Governor Wilson or a repudiation from his wife. If there was no mistake about it, he wrote, "Mrs. Woodrow Wilson shouldn't be mistress of the White House."

If the Ohio editor was emphatic Mrs. Wilson was certainly not less so. After the reporters had said they would gladly publish her letter to the Ohio editor she asked for an hour's time in which to write one. This was what she prepared:

Dear Sir—I have just received a copy of the Journal with your editorial entitled "Smoking Women," and I beg leave to indignantly deny the statement that I approve of women smoking cigarettes. The interview upon which your editorial was based is a pure invention. I intensely dislike the cigarette smoking habit for women—in fact, so strong is my feeling on the subject that my real danger lies in being unjust and unkind in my judgment of those who differ with me in this respect.

But certainly no woman in our household ever has or ever will smoke. Quite apart from the bad taste of it, I believe with you that it has an extremely injurious effect on the nerves.

ELLEN A. WILSON.
(Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.)

Governor Wilson, in approving the letter sent out by Mrs. Wilson, offered what he thought might prove an explanation for the interview.

"I do not think it was maliciously invented," he said. "There is a rather well known writer who signs herself Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, and she no doubt has been confused with Mrs. Wilson."

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow was formerly married to a relative of Governor Wilson, and it is understood that her views on the matter of women who smoke are different from those held in the household of the Democratic candidate.

The divided Republican party is like the boy "blowing against the wind.' There will be a lot of bluster, but it will not take votes away from Wilson and Marshall.

Winning with Wilson means more than a mere Democratic victory; it means restoring real prosperity.

Wilson is the best equipped man nominated for the presidency since Lincoln.

George W. Perkins is sure a "bully" Progressive.

No Head For Figures.

"Is every hair in your head numbered, grandpa?"

"Yes, my child."

"Well, grandpa," said the little fellow as he contemplated the great bald spot, "you haven't got much of a head for figures."—Exchange.

Too Smooth.

"I won't play poker with that fellow any more. He's entirely too smooth. He bobbed up last night with four aces."

"What's wrong about that?"

"I had dealt him four queens."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Changed Fortune.

"Wow! There went Smithkins in his new six. When I knew him a few years ago he had a junk shop."

"He still has, only he moved it to a fashionable street, kept the same stock and labeled it 'Antiques.'"—Leslie's Weekly.

A Real Friend.

"Brown volunteered to lend me some money."

"Did you take it?"

"No. That sort of friendship is too good to lose."—Detroit Free Press.

Costly Curds.

The Empress Catherine, noticing that the beautiful Mlle. Potocka, who had lately come to court, had no pearls, immediately commanded a fancy dress ball, to which the girl was bidden to come as a milkmaid. Then while Mlle. Potocka was dancing the empress slipped a superb necklace of pearls into the pail she carried and at her exclamation of wonder said, "It is only the milk which has curdled."

Death of C. E. Bishop

C. E. Bishop, of Manchester, died in Mill valley last week after a lingering illness, Mr. Bishop was one of the best known farmers of the south coast and was the owner of what was formerly known as the Sheppard ranch. He was a splendid citizen and his death is a loss to his community and the county at large. The remains were taken to Manchester for interment. He was a brother-in-law of J. C. Lane and leaves a wife and several children and a number of relatives to mourn his loss.

The Vote for Congress

The official returns from this county for congressman are as follows:

Hart 814,
Connick, 549
Hunter 284
Zumwalt 612
Juillard 244.

Dr. C. E. Pierce, our popular osteopath, is in Los Angeles this week on a vacation and an all round good time. He went down by steamer and reports a most excellent trip. He will return home next week.

An Astronomical Mirror.

One of the most remarkable scientific instruments yet devised is that constructed by Professor R. W. Wood to aid the work of astronomers. This is an astronomical mirror, the reflecting surface of which is revolving mercury elaborately protected against vibrations, and it magnifies in proportion to the speed of its revolutions. A metal dish containing mercury and turning on bearings carries on its edge a series of magnets. Encircling, but not touching them, is an iron ring. By motor power this ring is made to revolve upon bearings separate from those of the mercury container, but its magnets, attracting those on the container's edge, cause the latter also to revolve. Centrifugal force compels the mercury to form a concave surface perfect so long as free from jars. This apparatus is sunk in a well fourteen feet deep and set upon a solid foundation to eliminate all ordinary shocks.—Harper's.

He Understood.

Paul Louis Courier, when bitterly assailed by a French professor, quietly remarked: "I fancy he must be vexed. He calls me Jacobin, rebel, plagiarist, thief, poisoner, forger, leper, madman, impostor, calumniator, libeler, a horrible, filthy, grimacing ragpicker. I gather what he wants to say. He means that he and I are not of the same opinion, and this is his only way of putting it."

Wrong Diagnosis.

"My dear friend, can you loan me $200? I have just recovered from an operation for appendicitis."

"Appendicitis! Your doctor doesn't know his business. He should have operated for gall stones."—Boston Record.

An Indignant Compliment.

On one occasion when a change in the cast had been made at the Savoy theater Sir Arthur Sullivan, who happened to be dining at the Savoy hotel, slipped away for a few minutes from the table and went into the theater to the upper circle, there to hear and judge for himself the capabilities of the new artists. As the play proceeded and a favorite score in the opera was taken the talented composer unconsciously commenced to hum the refrain as he desired it to be rendered. This considerably annoyed his next door neighbor, who abruptly remarked, "Excuse me, sir, if I mention the fact that I have paid my money to hear Sir Arthur Sullivan's charming opera as given by the company and not your confounded humming!" Sir Arthur returned to his dinner and related the incident with great gusto.

Kangaroo Mother's Bravery.

During a severe drought in a certain section of Australia the owner of a country station was sitting one evening on the porch when he saw a kangaroo lingering about, alternating approaching and retiring from the house, as if half in doubt and fear what to do. At length she approached the water pails and, taking a young one from her pouch, held it to the water to drink. While her baby was satisfying its thirst the mother was quivering all over with apprehension, for she was but a few feet from the porch where one of her foes was watching her. The baby, having finished drinking, was replaced in the pouch, and the old kangaroo set off at a rapid pace. The spectator was so much impressed by the astonishing bravery of the affectionate mother that he made a vow—and kept it—never again to shoot a kangaroo.

A Genial Old Duke.

Duke Max of Bavaria had no greater delight than leaning over the counter of some small shopkeeper, talking gossip or purchasing toys for his great-grand-daughters in Austria. Innumerable stories are told illustrating his character. B. H. Goldschmidt, a wealthy banker of Frankfurt, was once journeying to Vienna. Opposite on the velvet cushion of the first class car sat an old gentleman whose dress and looks betrayed no uncommon rank. "Are you on a pleasure trip?" asked the banker's vis-a-vis. "Yes," answered the latter; "I am going to visit my daughter, who, thank God, fortunately married the Banker Wiener in Vienna." "How strange," replied his companion. "The incentive to my trip is the same. I am going to visit my daughter in Vienna. Thank God, she, too, is rather fortunately married to the emperor of Austria."

Royal Superstition.

Canterbury cathedral, like most great cathedrals, is decorated with innumerable niches for statues. At Canterbury a series of these niches is occupied with statues of kings and queens of England, and there are only four niches left unoccupied. An old tradition has it that when all the niches are filled the throne of England will come to an end.

Queen Victoria was approached with a view to a statue of herself being placed in one of the four remaining niches, but her late majesty was aware of the old tradition and refused. One wonders whether in the future there will be four monarchs of England sufficiently indifferent to superstition to defy the tradition and allow their effigies to fill the unoccupied spaces.—London Answers.

French Revolutionary Calendar.

Beginning with Sept. 22 the four months in the French revolutionary calendar was Vendemaire, Brumaire, Frimaire, Nivose, Pluviose, Ventose, Germinal, Floreal, Prairial, Messidor, Thermidor (Fervidor) and Fructidor, which ended on Sept. 16. Then followed five days, the Sansculotides, dedicated as feasts of reason to Les Vertus, Le Genie, Le Travail, L'Opinion and Les Recompenses. Decreed Nov. 21, 1793, this calendar was antedated to Sept. 22, 1792. It was abolished on Nivose 10, An xiv, corresponding to Dec. 31, 1805.

A Legal Stunt.

A suit having been brought against a defendant, his counsel interposed a demurrer that had the effect to throw it out of court. Soon afterward the same lawyer was elected to congress, and while at his post of duty he was surprised one day to receive a letter from his former client, saying: "I am sued again. Please send me another one of them things they call demurrers."—Case and Comment.

A WORD WITH WOMEN

VALUABle ADVICE FOR UKIAH READERS.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex". Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get welll alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thouands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Ukiah woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. F. A. Elder, 1120 N. Standley St., Ukiah, Calif., says::

"I have known of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills for a long time. Several years ago I suffered from a steady ache in my back I also had much trouble from the kidneys Having heard good reports about Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and before I had taken them long, I could see that they were helping me I used in all six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was restored to good health. I have such great confidence in the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills that I willingly recommend them"

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agent for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"I was cured of diarrhoea by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarhoea Remedy," writes M. E. Gebhardt, Oriole, Pa. There is nothing better. For sale by all dealers.

One of the most common ailments that hard working people are afflicted with is lame back. Apply Chamberlian's Liniments twice a day and massage the parts thoroughly at each application and you will get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

BLOOD POISON

Is prevented by applying Dr. Bell's Anti Pain to cuts, scratches and bruises. It destroys all septic matter enables the wound to heal without soreness. Be sure to get Dr. Bell's. Sold by E. B. Gibson.

OUR CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

The Democratic Text Book

The "high cost of living" is the keynote of the Democratic textbook for 1912, issued today by the Democratic national committee. The fallacy of a protective tariff is exposed in a series of articles prepared by experts who have made a special study of the numerous schedules of the Payne-Aldrich Bill. Under the headings, "The High Cost of Living," "Wool, the Keystone of the Arch," "Cotton Manufacturers" "Tariff Board a Fraud," "How Tariff was Raised on Cotton," "Dolliver on protection", "Protection and Farmer," "Taft's Best Law Ever", "The Family Sugar Bowl," "How Prices Have Soared," "Tariff and Manufacturers," "The Tariff in the Home", "Would save $20,000,000,000", "United States Consumers Pay Piper." The system of protection is attacked from every angle. It is the most comprehensive and carefully prepared exposure of its kind ever made from any political text-book.

The Trusts are taken care of in an able fashion. There is an article bristling with new facts, concerning the famous absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company by the United States Steel Corporation in 1907; the report of the Harvester Trust, which President Roosevelt held up at the request of George W. Perkins, together with the correspondence thereon, are published in full The result of the Stanley Investigation of the United States Steel Corporation is taken care of in two articles "The Greatest of Trusts", and "How Interests Control". The Interesting features of the book are "The True Roosevelt, by William H. Taft', and "The True Taft," by Theodore Roosevelt. These articles are simply compilations of extracts from the speeches of these two men delivered in 1908 and 1912. They make a novel and amusing exhibit.

The data on the life and work of Governor Wilson and Governor Marshall is very complete. The story of the former's life was written by William Bayard Hale, the widely known magazine writer. The laws that these two men have caused to be enacted for the benefit of labor, and the public health, are treated special. There are many other articles giving information concerning practically every subject that may be discussed in the campaign.

In getting out the book so early, the Democratic National Committee has not only beaten the Republican and Third Term parties, but has broken all Democratic records. In former campaigns this book has appeared the latter part of September of the 1st of October. The Text Book Committee which had charge of the preparation of the book was composed of Josephus Daniels, Chairman of the Bureau of Publicity; James T Loyd, Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee; and Robert Wickliffe Woolley. The latter was the editor in charge of the work.

Typographically the book is said by experts to be the best one ever turned out by a campaign committee. The price of the book is 25 cents a copy and orders will be filled from either the Chicago or New York Democratic National Headquarters.

Zumwalt a Man Of the People

Hon. I. G. Zumwalt, the Democratic nominee for Congress from the First district, is an ideal candidate in every sense of the word. In the recent primaries when he opposed Senator Juilliard, the popular Sonoma Senator, Zumwalt made a most remarkable race, carrying his home precinct by a vote of 47 to 1 and the entire Sacramento valley by a vote of about 6 to 1. This is an index of the popularity of our candidate for Congress.

HISTORY OF ZUMWALT'S LIFE

I. G. Zumwalt was born on a small farm, near Sycamore, Colusa county and was educated in the common schools. He helped support himself at the age of ten by herding stock and doing other light work. At the age of fourteen he went into the harvest field as a regular hand and at the end of the season was in charge of the crew, running the header for his employer. He worked his way through high school and graduated at the age of sixteen, making his way by laboring in the harvest field in summer and doing chores in winter. He then attended college, studied law and was graduated at the age of 21, being about $1000 in debt. He went to work with a will and at the end of the year had paid off all his indebtedness.

At the age of 25, he was elected district attorney of Colusa, carrying the county by an overwhelming majority, and his home precinct, which was republican, by a vote of 55 to 8. He was district attorney for eight years and according to the records in the attorney general's office, he had the highest record of convictions of any district attorney in the state of California.

In 1908, Mr. Zumwalt was nominated for congress at the Stockton convention, but was forced to decline the nomination on account of the press of business. In 1910 he was nominated to make the race against Wm. Kent, the millionaire, who was credited with spending a great amount of money and who employed some of the most prominent speakers in the nation to assist him in the campaign. Despite his great handicap, Zumwalt ran nearly 5000 votes ahead of his party ticket, and was defeated by a narrow margin.

Mr. Zumwalt is a lawyer by profession and is a clean progressive business man, having made a success of every business venture.

He is greatly interested in agriculture and is in addition successfully engaged in the raising of stock, as well as grain, alfalfa and fruits. He has spent all his life in the Sacramento valley and the First congressional district and is a converant with its wants and needs. He has for twenty years studied the problems of irrigation and the reclamation of our flood lands and would be a valuable man in congress on account of this knowledge.

If the First district wants a man that is in sympathy with the common people and one who can do things, Zumwalt is the man to send to congress. He is a hustler, a vote getter and above all things he is square. He is a progressive democrat and has the courage of his convictions. He stands on the national platform of the democratic party and will use his very best efforts to reduce the cost of living and revise the tariff downward so that the great masses may have a chance to live off their small earnings. Zumwalt can appreciate the heart throbs of the people for he has felt the pangs of proverty but he never gave up. By his own indefatigable energy and indomitable will he has amassed a competence. He wants a condition in government affairs where all may have an equal opportunity to live. "Equal and exact justice to all and special privileges to none" is his motto in political life. A vote for Zumwalt is a vote for American manhood and the rule of the people.

What T. R. Will Say

"What will be the first thing Teddy will say when he enters the White house next year?" asked a summer girl.

"Bully!" guessed a newspaper man.

"Delighted!" ventured a schoool ma'am.

"The women did it," said a gallant store clerk.

"All wrong," said the fair questioner. "He'll say: 'How do you do, President Wilson.'"

G. W. Parsons Here

G. W. Parsons came over from his home near Marysville about two weeks ago for a visit with his folks near Largo. He is located permanently near Marysville, where he has a fine ranch of 160 acres. He is engaged in stock raising and general farming and is doing well.

He found many friends in Ukiah and Sanel valleys to welcome him back and give him the glad hand.

Buicks Win Road Race

Ed Lyons driving a 1909 Buick car defeated a field of 10 entries in the Imperial valley road race Sunday, July 7th. Clarance Conan, also at the wheel of a Buick, came in second. The distance was 106 miles and the winning Buick covered the distance in five hours, 17 minutes and 30 seconds. The roads were extremely rough and over half the entries were compelled to retire before the end of the race. The racers crossed 205 bridges in the run and were forced to negotiate many stretches where the sand was several inches deep.

The winning car was a 1909 model--4 yearsold
